GARNER, REIKO YAMAZAKI, 3/17/1930 - 07/12/2006 Born and reared in her beloved Japan, this beautiful young woman would come to meet the love of her life, her husband, Fred. Reiko & Fred traveled the world beginning their family while he served his country in the armed forces. One of her children's fondest memories was watching their mother swim far from the Shore and floating back to them where she was always met with much love and laughter. Their five children would become the joy of her life. She spent countless hours sewing for her three little girls and teaching all of her children of their Japanese heritage. Reiko would lovingly become known as 'Nanny' by her grandchildren, great-grandchildren and even her children. Nanny's greatest joys were preparing frequent and large meals for her ever growing and incredibly close family, spending endless hours reading her extensive collection of Japanese literature and listening to music from her native country. While gardening & caring for her family nurtured her soul, playing dominoes and other games with Fred brought her great joy and laughter. Nanny's incredible strength and courage has left an indelible mark on not only her family but those who have witnessed the greatest battle of her life. The gracious loving care and support she received by the staff at TimberRidge will always serve as a great source of comfort for her family. Words can never express adequate gratitude to Dr. Izu Nwakoby for his caring heart toward this much loved wife, mother, grandmother, and great grandmother. She looks well to the ways of her household and does not eat the 'Bread of Idleness'. Her children rise up and bless her. Her husband also and he praises her, saying; Many daughters have done nobly. But you excel them all PROVERBS 27.28.29. She is survived by her husband, Fred Garner, daughters, Diane Millender and husband Thomas. Rebecca Petriccione and husband George. 1867. RAND, HELEN F. "JERRI" Helen F. "Jerri" Rand passed away September 28, 2006 in Tampa. Her age is pretty much indeterminable, because over the years she developed the habit of shaving off a little time here and there... She did, however, remain a lifelong Democrat. Jerri had a cheery, outgoing personality seen by casual acquaintances. Those who knew her best saw a steely resolve-determination-that was remarkable. In truth, she was one of those people whose random acts of kindness, encouragement and support helped lift the spirits of the dispirited, encouraged those with nagging doubts, and rose to defend the defenseless. She was a lifelong member of the Eastern Star. She was active in the Beta Sigma Phi sorority, working on good causes and some pretty awful looking crafts. Oh well, the people she gave them to always seemed to appreciate the thought. A voracious reader, especially of biographies, Jerri was always fascinated by people, their motivations and the obstacles they had to overcome to succeed. Her bright blue eyes sparkled with intelligence, flirtation, and a whole lot of charm. She could frequently talk people into things that they might not otherwise consider. She was a hairdresser and spent the last of her career working in nursing homes, helping the people there feel better with a haircut, shampoo and set. "Everyone gets done," she'd say...even if they couldn't afford it. Preceded in death by the love of her life, Ralph L. Rand III "Randy", Jerri leaves four sons; Larry Hedrick, John Hedrick of Crystal River; Jim Hedrick, and daughter-in-law Bonnie Hedrick of Old Town; Randy Rand of Crystal River; a daughter, Honey Rand of Tampa and the son of her heart, Jim Randel. Richboro, PA, Scott Hedrick of Old Town, Rod Hedrick of Coral Springs and three great grandchildren Kaitlyn, Jordan, and Jeffery. In lieu of flowers the family asks that donations be made to the Helen F. "Jerri" Rand memorial fund at the Community Foundation of Sarasota County. 1968. MERRILL, DR. DON "WORRY" 74 Ocala - Don experienced a happy childhood. He was born to his parents Charles and Dorothy Merrill on Tuesday, January 19, 1932 in Auburn, New York. He grew up with his siblings David and Janet, not to mention his country cousin Eugene. Don's father and friends nicknamed him "Worry (Wart)" because he reminded them of the comic strip character. Don grew up in Skaneateles, New York where he began building an extensive network of friends and graduated high school. Don then voluntarily enlisted into the United States Air Force and decided to let the GI Bill pay for his education. In 1960 he fathered his son, Craig and shortly thereafter was discharged with the rank of First Lieutenant. He obtained his Bachelor's from the University of Michigan in Law Enforcement and in continuing his education; he earned his Masters in Guidance and Counseling. While teaching in the Colorado school system, Don realized he wanted to be an effective leader so he obtained a Doctorate in School Administration from the University of Denver in 1974. He stayed in Colorado and became the Superintendent for Alamosa. Don enjoyed life in Colorado - mountains, snow, rodeos, horseback riding, dancing and especially roller-skating; which was where he met the love of his life, his wife Helen and her four children (Debra, Mitzi, Gilbert and Natalie). Don swept Helen off her feet and they eventually married in the summer of 1978; this was the beginning of a romantic affair that lasted a lifetime. They spent lots of time together, traveling and enjoying each other's company; they were more than husband and wife, they were best friends. In 1980 Don and his family moved to Portland, Oregon where he served as Superintendent. When his contract ended, they moved back to Colorado where he became Superintendent for one last time. After retiring, he tried his hand at politics and ran for a seat in the House of Representatives 1986. A losing vote count didn't slow Don down, he decided to pack up and travel around a bit more. Don and Helen moved back to his hometown in upstate New York in 1987; but the winters were colder than he remembered so in 1989 they headed south to Sunny Ocala, Florida. Don couldn't stay retired, so he went back to school to teach special education at Lake Weir High; adding yet another degree to his resume. He also served on the Marion County Zoning Committee, where he added to his long list of friends. During these years his three daughters followed them and moved to Ocala. Many things fascinated Don, one of which was sitting on a bench reading the newspaper, solving a cross-word or two and occasionally watching the young women walk by while Helen explored a new shopping mall. He loved to play Golf with his son, Craig. He relished the Holidays especially the meals prepared by his loving daughters. He enjoyed playing home poker tournaments with his son, Gilbert. It was joyful for Don to watch his granddaughters grow up as well as his great-grandchildren. Meeting people, making friends and "networking" were some of his favorite pass times, he truly cared about his community. He eventually re-retired from education in 2005. On Thursday, October 5, 2006 Don passed away peacefully, in the company of his family. Services were held privately. Don was a man who lived large. He preferred comedies over tragedies. He wanted his passing to be celebrated with a roast and laughter not mourned with sad faces and tears. Don would encourage all visitors to respect this wish and sign his online guest book and to include amusing stories or perhaps a special memory of him. Don will be greatly missed by all who knew him. Don is survived by his wife, Helen Merrill, his brother, David Merrill of Arkansas and sister Janet (Bud) Dermey of Arizona; his five children, Craig (Nancy) Merrill of Arkansas, Debra (Pete Ward) Iness, Mitzi (Clayton) Pentycufe, Gilbert Iness, and Natalie (Edward) Blount of Scotland; his three grandchildren, Ermalinda Salazar, Dawn (Jon) Sebourn of Arkansas, and Joey Merrill of Carolina; and four great-grandchildren, Craig and Jon Sebourn of Arkansas, Asia and Kieley Salazar. In 1980 Don and his family moved to Portland, Oregon where he served as Superintendent. When his contract ended, they moved back to Colorado where he became Superintendent for one last time. After retiring, he tried his hand at politics and ran for a seat in the House of Representatives 1986. A losing vote count didn't slow Don down, he decided to pack up and travel around a bit more. Don and Helen moved back to his hometown in upstate New York in 1987; but the winters were colder than he remembered so in 1989 they headed south to Sunny Ocala, Florida. Don couldn't stay retired, so he went back to school to teach special education at Lake Weir High; adding yet another degree to his resume. He also served on the Marion County Zoning Committee, where he added to his long list of friends. During these years his three daughters followed them and moved to Ocala. Many things fascinated Don, one of which was sitting on a bench reading the newspaper, solving a cross-word or two and occasionally watching the young women walk by while Helen explored a new shopping mall. He loved to play Golf with his son, Craig. He relished the Holidays especially the meals prepared by his loving daughters. He enjoyed playing home poker tournaments with his son, Gilbert. It was joyful for Don to watch his granddaughters grow up as well as his great-grandchildren. Meeting people, making friends and "networking" were some of his favorite pass times, he truly cared about his community. He eventually re-retired from education in 2005. On Thursday, October 5, 2006 Don passed away peacefully, in the company of his family. Services were held privately. Don was a man who lived large. He preferred comedies over tragedies. He wanted his passing to be celebrated with a roast and laughter not mourned with sad faces and tears. Don would encourage all visitors to respect this wish and sign his online guest book and to include amusing stories or perhaps a special memory of him. Don will be greatly missed by all who knew him. Don is survived by his wife, Helen Merrill, his brother, David Merrill of Arkansas and sister Janet (Bud) Dermey of Arizona; his five children, Craig (Nancy) Merrill of Arkansas, Debra (Pete Ward) Iness, Mitzi (Clayton) Pentycove, Gilbert Iness, and Natalie (Edward) Blount of Scotland; his three grandchildren, Ermalinda Salazar, Dawn (Jon) Sebourn of Arkansas, and Joey Merrill of Carolina; and four great-grandchildren, Craig and Jon Sebourn of Arkansas, Asia and Kieley Salazar. 2015. MERRILL, DR. DON "WORRY" 74 Ocala - Don experienced a happy childhood. He was born to his parents Charles and Dorothy Merrill on Tuesday, January 19, 1932 in Auburn, New York. He grew up with his siblings David and Janet, not to mention his country cousin Eugene. Don's father and friends nicknamed him "Worry (Wart)" because he reminded them of the comic strip character. Don grew up in Skaneateles, New York where he began building an extensive network of friends and graduated high school. Don then voluntarily enlisted into the United States Air Force and decided to let the GI Bill pay for his education. In 1960 he fathered his son, Craig and shortly thereafter was discharged with the rank of First Lieutenant. He obtained his Bachelor's from the University of Michigan in Law Enforcement and in continuing his education; he earned his Masters in Guidance and Counseling. While teaching in the Colorado school system, Don realized he wanted to be an effective leader so he obtained a Doctorate in School Administration from the University of Denver in 1974. He stayed in Colorado and became the Superintendent for Alamosa. Don enjoyed life in Colorado - mountains, snow, rodeos, horseback riding, dancing and especially roller-skating; which was where he met the love of his life, his wife Helen and her four children (Debra, Mitzi, Gilbert and Natalie). Don swept Helen off her feet and they eventually married in the summer of 1978; this was the beginning of a romantic affair that lasted a lifetime. They spent lots of time together, traveling and enjoying each other's company; they were more than husband and wife, they were best friends. In 1980 Don and his family moved to Portland, Oregon where he served as Superintendent. When his contract ended, they moved back to Colorado where he became Superintendent for one last time. After retiring, he tried his hand at politics and ran for a seat in the House of Representatives 1986. A losing vote count didn't slow Don down, he decided to pack up and travel around a bit more. Don and Helen moved back to his hometown in upstate New York in 1987; but the winters were colder than he remembered so in 1989 they headed south to Sunny Ocala, Florida. Don couldn't stay retired, so he went back to school to teach special education at Lake Weir High; adding yet another degree to his resume. He also served on the Marion County Zoning Committee, where he added to his long list of friends. During these years his three daughters followed them and moved to Ocala. Many things fascinated Don, one of which was sitting on a bench reading the newspaper, solving a cross-word or two and occasionally watching the young women walk by while Helen explored a new shopping mall. He loved to play Golf with his son, Craig. He relished the Holidays especially the meals prepared by his loving daughters. He enjoyed playing home poker tournaments with his son, Gilbert. It was joyful for Don to watch his granddaughters grow up as well as his great-grandchildren. Meeting people, making friends and "networking" were some of his favorite pass times, he truly cared about his community. He eventually re-retired from education in 2005. On Thursday, October 5, 2006 Don passed away peacefully, in the company of his family. Services were held privately. Don was a man who lived large. He preferred comedies over tragedies. He wanted his passing to be celebrated with a roast and laughter not mourned with sad faces and tears. Don would encourage all visitors to respect this wish and sign his online guest book and to include amusing stories or perhaps a special memory of him. Don will be greatly missed by all who knew him. Don is survived by his wife, Helen Merrill, his brother, David Merrill of Arkansas and sister Janet (Bud) Dermey of Arizona; his five children, Craig (Nancy) Merrill of Arkansas, Debra (Pete Ward) Iness, Mitzi (Clayton) Pentycufe, Gilbert Iness, and Natalie (Edward) Blount of Scotland; his three grandchildren, Ermalinda Salazar, Dawn (Jon) Sebourn of Arkansas, and Joey Merrill of Carolina; and four great-grandchildren, Craig and Jon Sebourn of Arkansas, Asia and Kielely Salazar. 2037. MERRILL, DR. DON "WORRY" 74 Ocala - Don experienced a happy childhood. He was born to his parents Charles and Dorothy Merrill on Tuesday, January 19, 1932 in Auburn, New York. He grew up with his siblings David and Janet, not to mention his country cousin Eugene. Don's father and friends nicknamed him "Worry (Wart)" because he reminded them of the comic strip character. Don grew up in Skaneateles, New York where he began building an extensive network of friends and graduated high school. Don then voluntarily enlisted into the United States Air Force and decided to let the GI Bill pay for his education. In 1960 he fathered his son, Craig and shortly thereafter was discharged with the rank of First Lieutenant. He obtained his Bachelor's from the University of Michigan in Law Enforcement and in continuing his education; he earned his Masters in Guidance and Counseling. While teaching in the Colorado school system, Don realized he wanted to be an effective leader so he obtained a Doctorate in School Administration from the University of Denver in 1974. He stayed in Colorado and became the Superintendent for Alamosa. Don enjoyed life in Colorado - mountains, snow, rodeos, horseback riding, dancing and especially roller-skating; which was where he met the love of his life, his wife Helen and her four children (Debra, Mitzi, Gilbert and Natalie). Don swept Helen off her feet and they eventually married in the summer of 1978; this was the beginning of a romantic affair that lasted a lifetime. They spent lots of time together, traveling and enjoying each other's company; they were more than husband and wife, they were best friends. In 1980 Don and his family moved to Portland, Oregon where he served as Superintendent. When his contract ended, they moved back to Colorado where he became Superintendent for one last time. After retiring, he tried his hand at politics and ran for a seat in the House of Representatives 1986. A losing vote count didn't slow Don down, he decided to pack up and travel around a bit more. Don and Helen moved back to his hometown in upstate New York in 1987; but the winters were colder than he remembered so in 1989 they headed south to Sunny Ocala, Florida. Don couldn't stay retired, so he went back to school to teach special education at Lake Weir High; adding yet another degree to his resume. He also served on the Marion County Zoning Committee, where he added to his long list of friends. During these years his three daughters followed them and moved to Ocala. Many things fascinated Don, one of which was sitting on a bench reading the newspaper, solving a cross-word or two and occasionally watching the young women walk by while Helen explored a new shopping mall. He loved to play Golf with his son, Craig. He relished the Holidays especially the meals prepared by his loving daughters. He enjoyed playing home poker tournaments with his son, Gilbert. It was joyful for Don to watch his granddaughters grow up as well as his great-grandchildren. Meeting people, making friends and "networking" were some of his favorite pass times, he truly cared about his community. He eventually re-retired from education in 2005. On Thursday, October 5, 2006 Don passed away peacefully, in the company of his family. Services were held privately. Don was a man who lived large. He preferred comedies over tragedies. He wanted his passing to be celebrated with a roast and laughter not mourned with sad faces and tears. Don would encourage all visitors to respect this wish and sign his online guest book and to include amusing stories or perhaps a special memory of him. Don will be greatly missed by all who knew him. Don is survived by his wife, Helen Merrill, his brother, David Merrill of Arkansas and sister Janet (Bud) Dermey of Arizona; his five children, Craig (Nancy) Merrill of Arkansas, Debra (Pete Ward) Iness, Mitzi (Clayton) Pentycofe, Gilbert Iness, and Natalie (Edward) Blount of Scotland; his three grandchildren, Ermalinda Salazar, Dawn (Jon) Sebourn of Arkansas, and Joey Merrill of Carolina; and four great-grandchildren, Craig and Jon Sebourn of Arkansas, Asia and Kieley Salazar. 2576. HEINTZ, J. E. BUD "DOC" 88 Silver Springs - Nationally Famous Rodeo Clown, J.E. Bud "Doc" Heintz, 88, formerly of Erie, PA, had his finale on Saturday November 18, 2006 in Silver Springs, FL. He made his entrance in Erie on February 27, 1918 a son of the late Reinhard and Madeline Burg Heintz. Bud "Doc" Heintz was nationally famous as a rodeo clown with his "bucking" model T Ford. His goal was to make people laugh and enjoy themselves. He started his performing career as a trick-rider entertaining the audience between rodeo events. He soon expanded his act and became a top rodeo clown. In this role, Bud served as the safety valve for cowboys at the end of the bull ride. Once the bull rider was on the ground, Bud would charge a fighting, mad bull and save the rider from serious injury by distracting the bull so the cowboy could run to safety. He did this by crawling inside a barrel and letting the bull attack the barrel, acting as a bull fighter waving a cape or running through the arena with the bull close behind. Gib Putnam of Corry, PA clowned with Bud for many years. When Bud's aging legs made it unwise to keep teasing bulls, he joined various circuses and continued traveling and clowning throughout the United States. He retired from performing at the age of 85. During his career, he performed with such notables as the Cisco Kid, Lone Ranger, Victor Borge, Wild Bill Cody, Hub Hubbell, the Flying Wallendas, animal trainer and circus owner John Herriott and was friends with many famous cowboys, including Gene Autry. Roy Rogers and his horse, Trigger, stayed with Bud when traveling through the Erie area. Bud was one of the founders of the P.O.N.Y. Association (Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York horse show group), founding member and past president of the Western Saddle Club, a member of the Masonic Morningside Lodge and the Old Timer's Rodeo & Wild West Club. 2581. SBARRA, DOMINIC GREGORY 91 Jacksonville - Dominic Gregory Sbarra, 91 died November 27, 2006 at West Jacksonville Health and Rehabilitation. He was born at Croton Point, New York, and is survived by two daughters, Barbara Gibbons and Pauline Jackson; five grandchildren, Ian Berger, Anthony Berger, Tessa Gibbons Misewich, Barry Gibbons, and Christopher Maxwell Jackson; two great-grandchildren, Aaron Berger and Gabriel Berger; and his brother, Frank Sbarra. Caroline, his beloved wife of 66 years, died on June 11, 2006. Deaf from birth, Dominic went without formal education until the age of 12, when he entered the Lexington School for the Deaf in New York City. He graduated with a full scholarship to Gallaudet University, but returned home instead to support his family through the Depression, delaying his own marriage for seven years. Having distinguished himself as an artist while at school, he managed to turn his talent to practical use by earning money as a sign painter. Dominic ran the family delicatessen with his wife and spent most of his working life as a quality control inspector at Hudson Wire Company in Ossining, New York, "retiring" after 45 years. He took on another job as maintenance supervisor at Patricia Apartments in Peekskill-retiring again at the age of 81. Moving to Summerfield, FL, he and Caroline lived as they had envisioned, in the sunny expanse of several acres of land. It was, he said, what he had long dreamed of, finally leaving behind the small, cramped spaces of his earlier life. Dominic was a man of unquenchable intellectual curiosity and fierce beliefs, whose deafness paradoxically freed him to challenge established orthodoxies, whether religious, political, or medical. He stubbornly relied on his own faith-in the unfolding of science to illuminate all mysteries; in the just claims of the oppressed on the conscience of the world; and in the primacy of the body's power to heal itself-and for these lifelong passions he found books to be his earliest allies and most trusted teachers, always ready to impart some truth to transform his life or the lives of others. His first prized possessions, which he painstakingly acquired with savings and coupons from the local newspaper, were the works of Mark Twain, a literary kindred spirit, whose keen insight into human nature and sympathy for the downtrodden he shared. Forever seared by the Depression and the poverty of his own family, Dominic embraced political action to right society's wrongs. His allegiance to working people like himself led him to organize the first union at Hudson Wire, a local of the IBEW, securing basic protections for the first time. He mimeographed leaflets in his basement; walked picket lines-never crossing one; and later marched on Washington for peace and for racial equality, witnessing Martin Luther King's "I Have a Dream" speech in 1963. He took the long view of history, never doubting that ordinary people, acting in concert, would one day balance the scales and receive their just due. Dominic had a long fascination with natural healing, and, Cassandra-like, he was often ignored, though often right. He kept a skeptical distance from conventional medical opinion when his brother Frank contracted polio, and refused to accept the doctor's prognosis that Frank would never move his arms and legs again.

Instead, inventing devices from bicycle parts and piping, Dominic helped his brother exercise his limbs daily until eventually he grew strong enough to run his own successful business. By nature, Dominic was incapable of keeping to himself anything he believed might ease someone's suffering; he was convinced that, as with the body politic, if one could harness the human body's force for good, one could change the outcome. For himself, though he once harbored the hope of hearing, he did not dwell on it, and never let his deafness interfere with his engagement with the world, or his daughters'. To the contrary, deafness enlarged who he was. He could not hear music, but made sure that his daughters would, providing them with records of Beethoven's symphonies and encouraging them to study the piano. To them he imparted his conviction that education was one of the highest goods and took great pride in their achievements. Inevitably, his deafness drove him inward-yet never out of narcissism, rather always to replenish his understanding. Indeed, his life was proof of the loving obligations he felt to family, to fellow citizens, to the world. In the end, what shone through was what everything else grew out of-his gentle, loving nature and sweet-tempered goodness. Even in his final illness, as throughout his whole life, he thought of others, worrying about his caregivers, inspiring them to love him, no matter how briefly they had known him. To all those who so tenderly ministered to him, the family is immensely grateful. Dominic was a thinker, revolutionary, artist, craftsman, inventor, and healer-our Renaissance man. He worked with his hands all his life, and from him we learned the importance of doing the smallest thing well. He showed us how to endure, how take the raw life one is given and, with patient and persistent effort, make of it something burnished. 2587. HEINTZ, J. E. BUD "DOC", 88 Silver Springs - Nationally Famous Rodeo Clown, J.E. Bud "Doc" Heintz, 88, formerly of Erie, PA, had his finale on Saturday November 18, 2006 in Silver Springs, FL. He made his entrance in Erie on February 27, 1918 a son of the late Reinhard and Madeline Burg Heintz. Bud "Doc" Heintz was nationally famous as a rodeo clown with his "bucking" model T Ford. His goal was to make people laugh and enjoy themselves. He started his performing career as a trick-rider entertaining the audience between rodeo events. He soon expanded his act and became a top rodeo clown. In this role, Bud served as the safety valve for cowboys at the end of the bull ride. Once the bull rider was on the ground, Bud would charge a fighting, mad bull and save the rider from serious injury by distracting the bull so the cowboy could run to safety. He did this by crawling inside a barrel and letting the bull attack the barrel, acting as a bull fighter waving a cape or running through the arena with the bull close behind. Gib Putnam of Corry, PA clowned with Bud for many years. When Bud's aging legs made it unwise to keep teasing bulls, he joined various circuses and continued traveling and clowning throughout the United States. He retired from performing at the age of 85. During his career, he performed with such notables as the Cisco Kid, Lone Ranger, Victor Borge, Wild Bill Cody, Hub Hubbell, the Flying Wallendas, animal trainer and circus owner John Herriott and was friends with many famous cowboys, including Gene Autry. Roy Rogers and his horse, Trigger, stayed with Bud when traveling through the Erie area. Bud was one of the founders of the P.O.N.Y. Association (Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York horse show group), founding member and past president of the Western Saddle Club, a member of the Masonic Morningside Lodge and the Old Timer's Rodeo & Wild West Club. Survivors include 2 daughters, Bev DiCarlo and her husband David of Erie and Jan McCraw and her husband Frank of Boiling Springs, SC; a son, Bob Heintz, currently living in Arizona; 2 sisters, Dorie Potratz and her husband John of Erie and Ellen Munson of Grand Rapids, Michigan; 9 grandchildren, 10 great grandchildren, and a companion Emma Rusty Miller also survive. He was preceded in death by his wife of 50 years Evangeline Sterrett Heintz and a sister Martha Rudolph. Interment will be in Erie, PA; a memorial service will be held by the Old Timer's Rodeo & Wild West Club at a later date. 2591. SBARRA, DOMINIC GREGORY 91 Jacksonville - Dominic Gregory Sbarra, 91 died November 27, 2006 at West Jacksonville Health and Rehabilitation. He was born at Croton Point, New York, and is survived by two daughters, Barbara Gibbons and Pauline Jackson; five grandchildren, Ian Berger, Anthony Berger, Tessa Gibbons Misewich, Barry Gibbons, and Christopher Maxwell Jackson; two great-grandchildren, Aaron Berger and Gabriel Berger; and his brother, Frank Sbarra. Caroline, his beloved wife of 66 years, died on June 11, 2006. Deaf from birth, Dominic went without formal education until the age of 12, when he entered the Lexington School for the Deaf in New York City. He graduated with a full scholarship to Gallaudet University, but returned home instead to support his family through the Depression, delaying his own marriage for seven years. Having distinguished himself as an artist while at school, he managed to turn his talent to practical use by earning money as a sign painter. Dominic ran the family delicatessen with his wife and spent most of his working life as a quality control inspector at Hudson Wire Company in Ossining, New York, "retiring" after 45 years. He took on another job as maintenance supervisor at Patricia Apartments in Peekskill-retiring again at the age of 81. Moving to Summerfield, FL, he and Caroline lived as they had envisioned, in the sunny expanse of several acres of land. It was, he said, what he had long dreamed of, finally leaving behind the small, cramped spaces of his earlier life. Dominic was a man of unquenchable intellectual curiosity and fierce beliefs, whose deafness paradoxically freed him to challenge established orthodoxies, whether religious, political, or medical. He stubbornly relied on his own faith-in the unfolding of science to illuminate all mysteries; in the just claims of the oppressed on the conscience of the world; and in the primacy of the body's power to heal itself-and for these lifelong passions he found books to be his earliest allies and most trusted teachers, always ready to impart some truth to transform his life or the lives of others. His first prized possessions, which he painstakingly acquired with savings and coupons from the local newspaper, were the works of Mark Twain, a literary kindred spirit, whose keen insight into human nature and sympathy for the downtrodden he shared. Forever seared by the Depression and the poverty of his own family, Dominic embraced political action to right society's wrongs. His allegiance to working people like himself led him to organize the first union at Hudson Wire, a local of the IBEW, securing basic protections for the first time. He mimeographed leaflets in his basement; walked picket lines-never crossing one; and later marched on Washington for peace and for racial equality, witnessing Martin Luther King's "I Have a Dream" speech in 1963. He took the long view of history, never doubting that ordinary people, acting in concert, would one day balance the scales and receive their just due. Dominic had a long fascination with natural healing, and, Cassandra-like, he was often ignored, though often right. He kept a skeptical distance from conventional medical opinion when his brother Frank contracted polio, and refused to accept the doctor's prognosis that Frank would never move his arms and legs again. Instead, inventing devices from bicycle parts and piping, Dominic helped his brother exercise his limbs daily until eventually he grew strong enough to run his own successful business. By nature, Dominic was incapable of keeping to himself anything he believed might ease someone's suffering; he was convinced that, as with the body politic, if one could harness the human body's force for good, one could change the outcome. For himself, though he once harbored the hope of hearing, he did not dwell on it, and never let his deafness interfere with his engagement with the world, or his daughters'. To the contrary, deafness enlarged who he was. He could not hear music, but made sure that his daughters would, providing them with records of Beethoven's symphonies and encouraging them to study the piano. To them he imparted his conviction that education was one of the highest goods and took great pride in their achievements. Inevitably, his deafness drove him inward-yet never out of narcissism, rather always to replenish his understanding. Indeed, his life was proof of the loving obligations he felt to family, to fellow citizens, to the world. In the end, what shone through was what everything else grew out of-his gentle, loving nature and sweet-tempered goodness. Even in his final illness, as throughout his whole life, he thought of others, worrying about his caregivers, inspiring them to love him, no matter how briefly they had known him. To all those who so tenderly ministered to him, the family is immensely grateful. Dominic was a thinker, revolutionary, artist, craftsman, inventor, and healer-our Renaissance man. He worked with his hands all his life, and from him we learned the importance of doing the smallest thing well. He showed us how to endure, how take the raw life one is given and, with patient and persistent effort, make of it something burnished. 2811. CHAZAL, MARJORIE BAY 100 Williamsburg, VA - Marjorie Bay Chazal died December 19, 2006 of natural causes at Williamsburg Landing Retirement Community in Williamsburg, Virginia. Marjorie was born in California, Missouri on June 30, 1906. She moved with her family to Ocala, Florida in the 1920's and worked there as a physician's receptionist. She met and married Lt. Edward Amedee Chazal, U.S. Army, also of Ocala. Their wedding was described in the Ocala Morning Star of October 29, 1931 as "a social event of the fall season around which much interest centered". Mrs. Chazal began her long and cherished role as an Army wife at Fort Benning, Georgia. They were later station in Hawaii, Governors Island NY, Ft. Leavenworth KS and back to Ft. Benning. She performed and excelled in the many social responsibilities and sports activities expected of the military wives in the unhurried pre-war years of the Army. After being assigned to Washington for a short time at the beginning of World War II, Colonel Chazal took command of the 255th Infantry Regiment in Europe and Marjorie spent the duration in Arlington, Virginia. Alone and with courage, she managed the household and two young children in spite of the adversity of rationing and wartime shortages. After the war, her husband was involved with the development of what is now the National Defense University in Washington D.C. In 1947, Marjorie drove with her two children from Florida to Seattle, Washington and boarded a wartime Army transport to Occupied Japan. She joined her husband in Yokohama where he commanded G-1 of the Eighth Army. This adventure was undoubtedly the highlight of their lives. After returning to the Pentagon in 1950, they lived in Falls Church for four years until they retired from the Army life and moved to Ponte Vedra Beach, Florida. Mrs. Chazal was very active in the Garden Club, the Women's Church Circle and Bridge Club. Colonel Chazal died in 1988 and was buried at Arlington Cemetery. Marjorie's choice to move to Williamsburg in 1990 brought her closer to children and grandchildren. She participated in the many activities and volunteer work at Williamsburg Land, and continued to be loving "Grandmommie" and loyal friend through her 100 years of life. She is survived by her sister, Ruth Bay Toffaletti of Ocala, Florida and now Durham, NC, her daughter Jennifer Chazal Watson of Naples, Florida and Williamsburg and her son Edward Amedee Chazal, Jr. of Birmingham, Alabama as well as six grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren.
