Dee was also known for her generous spirit and mission work, fully decked out as a clown to entertain and bring the word of God to the impoverished children of poorer communities in Europe and South America. RENAKER, ALETA "DEE" 45 Ocala - In Loving Memory of Aleta "Dee" Renaker. In the early hours of October 2, 2008, Aleta Danielle "Dee" Renaker joined the chorus of angels in heaven, in the church of her Lord Jesus Christ. A celebration of her life will be held at 3:00 PM, Sunday, October 5, 2008, at the First Assembly of God in Ocala. Dee leaves behind her loving husband of seven years, Jeffrey Renaker, three daughters, Paige Hendricks, Jamie Evans, and Megan Evans; stepson Jason Renaker, and son-in-law Phillip Hendricks. She was beloved Grammy to five grandchildren, Adon, Ethan, Brandon, Kaya, and Abbani, and devoted master to Max. Dee was born to William Cockrill and Sarah Miller Cockrill on February 17, 1963, in Phoenix, Arizona, the youngest of six children. She is survived by her parents, who live in The Villages, her sister and brother-in-law Eryn and Steve McCormick of Phoenix; sister Kimberly Pflaum of Austin; brother and sister-in-law Steve and Yvonne Cockrill and brother Jody Cockrill of Phoenix, and brother and sister-in-law Chris and Cindy Cockrill of Charlotte, in-laws Mark and Grace Renaker and Lee and Christie Renaker of Ocala, as well as 17 nieces and nephews and 8 grand nieces and nephews. For 25 years, Dee thrived in Ocala, where she raised her children. She remarked more than once, in her no-nonsense style, that she would never live anywhere else in the world. It was in Ocala that Dee found her calling as a singer. She performed in church choirs and in professional productions such as Dickens' A Christmas Carol. Everyone who knew Dee can attest that she was truly larger than life, and her presence filled any room she stepped into with a unique energy and vitality. That big personality was perfect for the spotlight, and her many talents were well appreciated by loving fans and fellow musicians as she provided lead vocals for the James Blooze Band and Outside Over. Dee was also known for her generous spirit and mission work, fully decked out as a clown to entertain and bring the word of God to the impoverished children of poorer communities in Europe and South America. Mostly, Dee wanted everybody to be happy. She is loved by many--- and by her family more than she could ever have imagined. She will be missed and well-remembered. Concurrently with the expansion of the furniture business, he established a real estate construction and development company in Fort Lauderdale through which he constructed and marketed over 10,000 residential units in south Florida. His initial million-dollar contribution to the "New York Hereos' Fund" following the attacks of September 11 inspired others to contribute to that fund. Known as one of Florida's pioneering and most successful, private commercial real estate developers, Clark Butler served the Gainesville community and its citizens for over 7 decades. Known for his brilliance, vision, integrity amid hard work, Butler was determined to build a shopping center development that would serve the Gainesville community for generations to come. His legacy and brainchild, Butler Plaza, is a mile-long shopping center and has been one of Gainesville's mainstays and most profitable business centers for over two decades. Butler's life can be characterized as a true rag to riches story. He moved to Gainesville with his family on the heels of the Great Depression with only 300 dollars to their name. His store was one of the few businesses that served all communities in Gainesville, including: East Gainesville, at a very difficult time during segregation. As he rose in prominence as a grocery store owner and businessman, Butler was called upon for public service. In the 1950s, Butler served as City Commissioner and Mayor, and was called on to end corruption in the bidding process in Gainesville. Uncompromising and determined not to compromise his integrity, Butler's vote helped to end bidding corruption and, as a result, his grocery store was burned down. Again, facing poverty, Butler, his father and his brother Bill, started building affordable homes for Gainesville's citizens. His success as a residential developer mirrored his success with his grocery store and with whatever he touched. He soon became one of the areas most innovative residential and commercial developers. With his daughter Deborah at his side, Butler realized the American dream. At the time of his death, he was developing new projects in Gainesville that would bring thousands of new jobs to the community. Butler has been recognized for decades for his work as a philanthropist and entrepreneur. Indeed, the recipient of numerous awards and accolades, his proudest accomplishment was that he was able to encourage young kids to do well in school and to secure a higher education. He was the Founder of the Gainesville Boys Club, Past President and Charter member of the Gainesville Builder's Association, Founding member of the Gainesville State Bank and Chairman of the Board for 20 years, a Rotary member, Past Chairman of the local Board of Directors for Compass Bank, Member of the University of Florida Foundation, Co-Founder of the S. Clark Butler Entrepreneurial Foundation at the University of Florida, Member of the International Council of Shopping Centers, Member of the University of Florida Planned Giving, Sponsor of University of Florida Performance That Counts, Sponsor of Junior Achievement, Donor to the Phillips Center for Performing Arts, Member of University of Florida President's Council, Lifetime Honorary Member of the Florida Sheriffs Association, contributor to St. Francis High School as well as many other charitable organizations. He also received countless awards for his outstanding contributions to this

community including the Alachua County Black Caucus Un-Sung Hero Award, the Red Triangle award, the Key to the City of Gainesville, University of Florida Entrepreneurship & Innovation Distinguished Achievement Award as well as numerous awards over the years from the YMCA. Clark Butler was preceded in death by his son Clark Butler, Jr. He is survived by his wife of 65 years Mary Catherine Butler, his daughters Catherine Ann Butler of Los Angeles, and Deborah Jean Butler of Gainesville, his brother Robert Butler as well as other relatives and friends. There will be a Celebration of Life memorial tribute honoring Mr. Butler on November 5th by invitation. WALLICK, MOLLIE MARCUS Gainesville - Dr. Mollie Marcus Wallick, Emeritus Professor of Psychiatry at Louisiana State University Health Sciences Center, passed away on October 21, 2008. The cause of death was breast cancer. Dr. Wallick was born on August 8, 1926 in New Orleans, Louisiana, where she lived until 2005. Following Hurricane Katrina, she relocated to Gainesville, Florida and lived at Oak Hammock.. The daughter of Bruno and Anna B. Marcus, Dr. Wallick was preceded in death by her beloved husband of 58 years, Mervin Wallick. A brilliant student and teacher, Dr. Wallick devoted her life to learning, education, and service. She graduated from McMain High School in New Orleans at the head of her class at 16 and won a scholarship to Newcomb College, but family circumstances following the Depression and during World War II required her to work instead. After years of working, for many of them as teacher and director of Communal Nursery School, and caring for her three young children, she enrolled at LSUNO, where she graduated summa cum laude. Dr. Wallick went on to receive her M. A. and Ph. D. from the University of New Orleans. Dr. Wallick enjoyed a long and distinguished career, which included her tenure as Educational Director of the Therapeutic Nursery School at LSUMC and Professor of Psychiatry at LSUMC, where she was also Coordinator of Academic Programs. She loved her work, but retired in 2002 in order to care for her then-ailing husband. The author and co-author of over 50 scholarly publications, including articles in the prestigious American Journal of Psychiatry, Dr. Wallick wrote on and was known for her work on mother-infant bonding, autism, and diversity in medical education. Her dissertation on mother-infant bonding at Charity Hospital in New Orleans led a change in that hospital's policy in favor of allowing mothers to care for, breast feed, and bond with their newborn children. She adapted a technique of using sign language in teaching autistic children and wrote widely of her experiences. But perhaps the work of which she was most proud involved diversity in education, particularly the support of gay and lesbian students and the education of the larger community in the needs and rights of minorities. Dr. Wallick was a national pioneer in integrating gay and lesbian issues into medical training; she formed a panel of gay and lesbian medical professionals who regularly talked with students at LSU, Tulane, and at Millsaps College, in Jackson, MS. Starting in 1983, Dr. Wallick organized the first gay-affirmative teaching programs at LSU and Tulane Medical Schools and served as Student-Faculty Liaison for Gay and Lesbian Issues. She worked to ban discrimination in hiring practices and worked as a tireless advocate for her colleagues and students. For her work, Dr. Wallick was the recipient of numerous awards, including the Pfizer Award for Excellence in Research, Education and Patient Care and the LSU Medical School Women in Medicine Award. In 2002, she received the Human Rights Campaign Lifetime Achievement Award for Outstanding Leadership and Service to the Lesbian and Gay Community. Dr. Wallick was an inspiration to her friends and family, not only for her remarkable professional accomplishments but also for her extraordinary personal courage. When she was first diagnosed with breast cancer at the age of 59, she continued to work full time through her chemotherapy and in her later bouts with the disease and with other debilitating medical conditions, she always maintained her optimism and her love of life, simply going forward with determination. Her children, grandchildren, and extended family and friends will remember her as generous and giving—a great listener and loyal advocate. Dr. Wallick was sustained through her life by her Judaism. She was a member and supporter of three congregations: Shir Chadash and Temple Sinai in New Orleans and Congregation B'nai Israel in Gainesville. With a longtime commitment to Jewish education, she read widely in Jewish literature and contributed incisive book reviews to several publications, as recently as last year. For her contributions to the diversity and justice, she was recognized by the Jewish Women's Archive in 2005 as a woman "who dared to change the world." Dr. Wallick is survived by her brother, Mark Marcus of Palm Springs, California; children, Michael J. Wallick (Faith), of Austin, Texas; Judith Wallick Page (William), of Gainesville, Florida; and Jonathan M. Wallick (Marjorie Esman), of New Orleans; grandchildren, Talitha Muniz Wallick of Austin, Texas; Rebekah Page-Gourley, of Detroit, Michigan; Hannah M. Page, of Athens, Georgia; Ariel C. Wallick, Justin W. Wallick, and Hannah Esman Chafetz of New Orleans; and one great grandchild. A graveside ceremony will be held in New Orleans on Friday. A later memorial service will be held at Congregation B'nai Israel in Gainesville, FL. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that contributions be made to one of the following charities: PFLAG Scholarship Fund, P. O. Box 15515, New Orleans, LA, 70175; JCRS Wallick Fund for Families of Autistic Children, 3500 N. BUTLER, S. CLARK Gainesville - S. Clark Butler passed away quietly in his sleep at 6:30 pm on October 10, 2008. Known as one of Florida's pioneering and most successful, private commercial real estate developers, Clark Butler served the Gainesville community and its citizens for over 7 decades. Known for his brilliance, vision, integrity amid hard work, Butler was determined to build a shopping center development that would serve the Gainesville community for generations to come. His legacy and brainchild, Butler Plaza, is a mile-long shopping center and has been one of Gainesville's mainstays and most profitable business centers for over two decades. Butler's life can be characterized as a true rag to riches story. He moved to Gainesville with his family on the heels of the Great Depression with only 300 dollars to their name. After opening a fresh produce stand with his father and brother in 1939, Butler soon led his family and grew his business into a 15,000 square foot grocery store. His store was one of the few businesses that served all communities in Gainesville, including: East Gainesville, at a very difficult time during segregation. As he rose in prominence as a grocery store owner and businessman, Butler was called upon for public service. In the 1950s, Butler served as City Commissioner and Mayor, and was called on to end corruption in the bidding process in Gainesville. Uncompromising and determined not to compromise his integrity, Butler's vote helped to end bidding corruption and, as a result, his grocery store was burned down. Again, facing poverty, Butler, his father and his brother Bill, started building affordable homes for Gainesville's citizens. His success as a residential developer mirrored his success with his grocery store and with whatever he touched. He soon became one of the areas most innovative residential and commercial developers. With his daughter Deborah at his side, Butler realized the American dream. At the time of his death, he was developing new projects in Gainesville that would bring thousands of new jobs to the community. Butler has been recognized for decades for his work as a philanthropist and entrepreneur. Indeed, the recipient of numerous awards and accolades, his proudest accomplishment was that he was able to encourage young kids to do well in school and to secure a higher education. He was the Founder of the Gainesville Boys Club, Past President and Charter member of the Gainesville Builder's Association, Founding member of the Gainesville State Bank and Chairman of the Board for 20 years, a Rotary member, Past Chairman of the local Board of Directors for Compass Bank, Member of the University of Florida Foundation, Co-Founder of the S. Clark Butler Entrepreneurial Foundation at the University of Florida, Member of the International Council of Shopping Centers, Member of the University of Florida Planned Giving, Sponsor of University of Florida Performance That Counts, Sponsor of Junior Achievement, Donor to the Phillips Center for Performing Arts, Member of University of Florida President's Council, Lifetime Honorary Member of the Florida Sheriffs Association, contributor to St. Francis High School as well as many other charitable organizations. He also received countless awards for his outstanding contributions to this

community including the Alachua County Black Caucus Un-Sung Hero Award, the Red Triangle award, the Key to the City of Gainesville, University of Florida Entrepreneurship & Innovation Distinguished Achievement Award as well as numerous awards over the years from the YMCA. Clark Butler was preceded in death by his son Clark Butler, Jr. He is survived by his wife of 65 years Mary Catherine Butler, his daughters Catherine Ann Butler of Los Angeles, and Deborah Jean Butler of Gainesville, his brother Robert Butler as well as other relatives and friends. WALLICK, MOLLIE MARCUS Gainesville - Dr. Mollie Marcus Wallick, Emeritus Professor of Psychiatry at Louisiana State University Health Sciences Center, passed away on October 21, 2008. The cause of death was breast cancer. Dr. Wallick was born on August 8, 1926 in New Orleans, Louisiana, where she lived until 2005. Following Hurricane Katrina, she relocated to Gainesville, Florida and lived at Oak Hammock.. The daughter of Bruno and Anna B. Marcus, Dr. Wallick was preceded in death by her beloved husband of 58 years, Mervin Wallick. A brilliant student and teacher, Dr. Wallick devoted her life to learning, education, and service. She graduated from McMain High School in New Orleans at the head of her class at 16 and won a scholarship to Newcomb College, but family circumstances following the Depression and during World War II required her to work instead. After years of working, for many of them as teacher and director of Communal Nursery School, and caring for her three young children, she enrolled at LSUNO, where she graduated summa cum laude. Dr. Wallick went on to receive her M. A. and Ph. D. from the University of New Orleans. Dr. Wallick enjoyed a long and distinguished career, which included her tenure as Educational Director of the

Therapeutic Nursery School at LSUMC and Professor of Psychiatry at LSUMC, where she was also Coordinator of Academic Programs. She loved her work, but retired in 2002 in order to care for her then-ailing husband. The author and co-author of over 50 scholarly publications, including articles in the prestigious American Journal of Psychiatry, Dr. Wallick wrote on and was known for her work on mother-infant bonding, autism, and diversity in medical education. Her dissertation on mother-infant bonding at Charity Hospital in New Orleans led a change in that hospital's policy in favor of allowing mothers to care for, breast feed, and bond with their newborn children. She adapted a technique of using sign language in teaching autistic children and wrote widely of her experiences. But perhaps the work of which she was most proud involved diversity in education, particularly the support of gay and lesbian students and the education of the larger community in the needs and rights of minorities. Dr. Wallick was a national pioneer in integrating gay and lesbian issues into medical training; she formed a panel of gay and lesbian medical professional who regularly talked with students at LSU, Tulane, and at Millsaps College, in Jackson, MS. Starting in 1983, Dr. Wallick organized the first gay-affirmative teaching programs at LSU and Tulane Medical Schools and served as Student-Faculty Liason for Gay and Lesbian Issues. She worked to ban discrimination in hiring practices and worked as a tireless advocate for her colleagues and students. For her work, Dr. Wallick was the recipient of numerous awards, including the Pfizer Award for Excellence in Research, Education and Patient Care and the LSU Medical School Women in Medicine Award. In 2002, she received the Human Rights Campaign Lifetime Achievement Award for Outstanding Leadership and Service to the Lesbian and Gay Community. Dr. Wallick was an inspiration to her friends and family, not only for her remarkable professional accomplishments but also for her extraordinary personal courage. When she was first diagnosed with breast cancer at the age of 59, she continued to work full time through her chemotherapy and in her later bouts with the disease and with other debilitating medical conditions, she always maintained her optimism and her love of life, simply going forward with determination. Her children, grandchildren, and extended family and friends will remember her as generous and giving-a great listener and loyal advocate. Dr. Wallick was sustained through her life by her Judaism. She was a member and supporter of three congregations: Shir Chadash and Temple Sinai in New Orleans and Congregation B'nai Israel in Gainesville. With a longtime commitment to Jewish education, she read widely in Jewish literature and contributed incisive book reviews to several publications, as recently as last year. For her contributions to the diversity and justice, she was recognized by the Jewish Women's Archive in 2005 as a woman "who dared to change the world." Dr. Wallick is survived by her brother, Mark Marcus of Palm Springs, California; children, Michael J. Wallick (Faith), of Austin, Texas; Judith Wallick Page (William), of Gainesville, Florida; and Jonathan M. Wallick (Marjorie Esman), of New Orleans; grandchildren, Talitha Muniz Wallick of Austin, Texas; Rebekah Page-Gourley, of Detroit, Michigan; Hannah M. Page, of Athens, Georgia; Ariel C. Wallick, Justin W. Wallick, and Hannah Esman Chafetz of New Orleans; and one great grandchild. A graveside ceremony will be held in New Orleans on Friday. A later memorial service will be held at Congregation B'nai Israel in Gainesville, FL. BUTLER, S. CLARK Gainesville - S. Clark Butler passed away quietly in his sleep at 6:30 pm on October 10, 2008. Known as one of Florida's pioneering and most successful, private commercial real estate developers, Clark Butler served the Gainesville community and its citizens for over 7 decades. Known for his brilliance, vision, integrity amid hard work, Butler was determined to build a shopping center development that would serve the Gainesville community for generations to come. His legacy and brainchild, Butler Plaza, is a mile-long shopping center and has been one of Gainesville's mainstays and most profitable business centers for over two decades. Butler's life can be characterized as a true rag to riches story. He moved to Gainesville with his family on the heels of the Great Depression with only 300 dollars to their name. After opening a fresh produce stand with his father and brother in 1939, Butler soon led his family and grew his business into a 15,000 square foot grocery store. His store was one of the few businesses that served all communities in Gainesville, including: East Gainesville, at a very difficult time during segregation. As he rose in prominence as a grocery store owner and businessman, Butler was called upon for public service. In the 1950s, Butler served as City Commissioner and Mayor, and was called on to end corruption in the bidding process in Gainesville. Uncompromising and determined not to compromise his integrity, Butler's vote helped to end bidding corruption and, as a result, his grocery store was burned down. Again, facing poverty, Butler, his father and his brother Bill, started building affordable homes for Gainesville's citizens. His success as a residential developer mirrored his success with his grocery store and with whatever he touched. He soon became one of the areas most innovative residential and commercial developers. With his daughter Deborah at his side, Butler realized the American dream. At the time of his death, he was developing new projects in Gainesville that would bring thousands of new jobs to the community. Butler has been recognized for decades for his work as a philanthropist and entrepreneur. Indeed, the recipient of numerous awards and accolades, his proudest accomplishment was that he was able to encourage young kids to do well in school and to secure a higher education. He was the Founder of the Gainesville Boys Club, Past President and Charter member of the Gainesville Builder's Association, Founding member of the Gainesville State Bank and Chairman of the Board for 20 years, a Rotary member, Past Chairman of the local Board of Directors for Compass Bank, Member of the University of Florida Foundation, Co-Founder of the S. Clark Butler Entrepreneurial Foundation at the University of Florida, Member of the International Council of Shopping Centers, Member of the University of Florida Planned Giving, Sponsor of University of Florida Performance That Counts, Sponsor of Junior Achievement, Donor to the Phillips Center for Performing Arts, Member of University of Florida President's Council, Lifetime Honorary Member of the Florida Sheriffs Association, contributor to St. Francis High School as well as many other charitable organizations. He also received countless awards for his outstanding contributions to this community including the Alachua County Black Caucus Un-Sung Hero Award, the Red Triangle award, the Key to the City of Gainesville, University of Florida Entrepreneurship & Innovation Distinguished Achievement Award as well as numerous awards over the years from the YMCA. BUTLER, S. CLARK Gainesville - S. Clark Butler passed away quietly in his sleep at 6:30 pm on October 10, 2008. Known as one of Florida's pioneering and most successful, private commercial real estate developers, Clark Butler served the Gainesville community and its citizens for over 7 decades. Known for his brilliance, vision, integrity amid hard work, Butler was determined to build a shopping center development that would serve the Gainesville community for generations to come. His legacy and brainchild, Butler Plaza, is a mile-long shopping center and has been one of Gainesville's mainstays and most profitable business centers for over two decades. Butler's life can be characterized as a true rag to riches story. He moved to Gainesville with his family on the heels of the Great Depression with only 300 dollars to their name. After opening a fresh produce stand with his father and brother in 1939, Butler soon led his family and grew his business into a 15,000 square foot grocery store. His store was one of the few businesses that served all communities in Gainesville, including: East Gainesville, at a very difficult time during segregation. As he rose in prominence as a grocery store owner and businessman, Butler was called upon for public service. In the 1950s, Butler served as City Commissioner and Mayor, and was called on to end corruption in the bidding process in Gainesville. Uncompromising and determined not to compromise his integrity, Butler's vote helped to end bidding corruption and, as a result, his grocery store was burned down. Again, facing poverty, Butler, his father and his brother Bill, started building affordable homes for Gainesville's citizens. His success as a residential developer mirrored his success with his grocery store and with whatever he touched. He soon became one of the areas most innovative residential and commercial developers. With his daughter Deborah at his side, Butler realized the American dream. At the time of his death, he was developing new projects in Gainesville that would bring thousands of new jobs to the community. Butler has been recognized for decades for his work as a philanthropist and entrepreneur. Indeed, the recipient of numerous awards and accolades, his proudest accomplishment was that he was able to encourage young kids to do well in school and to secure a higher education. He was the Founder of the Gainesville Boys Club, Past President and Charter member of the Gainesville Builder's Association, Founding member of the Gainesville State Bank and Chairman of the Board for 20 years, a Rotary member, Past Chairman of the local Board of Directors for Compass Bank, Member of the University of Florida Foundation, Co-Founder of the S. Clark Butler Entrepreneurial Foundation at the University of Florida, Member of the International Council of Shopping Centers, Member of the University of Florida Planned Giving, Sponsor of University of Florida Performance That Counts, Sponsor of Junior Achievement, Donor to the Phillips Center for Performing Arts, Member of University of Florida President's Council, Lifetime Honorary Member of the Florida Sheriffs Association, contributor to St. Francis High School as well as many other charitable organizations. He also received countless awards for his outstanding contributions to this community including the Alachua County Black Caucus Un-Sung Hero Award, the Red Triangle award, the Key to the City of Gainesville, University of Florida Entrepreneurship & Innovation Distinguished Achievement Award as well as numerous awards over the years from the YMCA. BUTLER, S. CLARK Gainesville - S. Clark Butler passed away quietly in his sleep at 6:30 pm on October 10, 2008. Known as one of Florida's pioneering and most successful, private commercial real estate developers, Clark Butler served the Gainesville community and its citizens for over 7 decades. Known for his brilliance, vision, integrity amid hard work, Butler was determined to build a shopping center development that would serve the Gainesville community for generations to come. His legacy and brainchild, Butler Plaza, is a mile-long shopping center and has been one of Gainesville's mainstays and most profitable business centers for over two decades. Butler's life can be characterized as a true rag to riches story. He moved to Gainesville with his family on the heels of the Great Depression with only 300 dollars to their name. After opening a fresh produce stand with his father and brother in 1939, Butler soon led his family and grew his business into a 15,000 square foot grocery store. His store was one of the few businesses that served all communities in Gainesville, including: East Gainesville, at a very difficult time during segregation. As he rose in prominence as a grocery store owner and businessman, Butler was called upon for public service. In the 1950s, Butler served as City Commissioner and Mayor, and was called on to end corruption in the bidding process in Gainesville. Uncompromising and determined not to compromise his integrity, Butler's vote helped to end bidding corruption and, as a result, his grocery store was burned down. Again, facing poverty, Butler, his father and his brother Bill, started building affordable homes for Gainesville's citizens. His success as a residential developer mirrored his success with his grocery store and with whatever he touched. He soon became one of the areas most innovative residential and commercial developers. With his daughter Deborah at his side, Butler realized the American dream. At the time of his death, he was developing new projects in Gainesville that would bring thousands of new jobs to the community. Butler has been recognized for decades for his work as a philanthropist and entrepreneur. Indeed, the recipient of numerous awards and accolades, his proudest accomplishment was that he was able to encourage young kids to do well in school and to secure a higher education. He was the Founder of the Gainesville Boys Club, Past President and Charter member of the Gainesville Builder's Association, Founding member of the Gainesville State Bank and Chairman of the Board for 20 years, a Rotary member, Past Chairman of the local Board of Directors for Compass Bank, Member of the University of Florida Foundation, Co-Founder of the S. BUTLER, S. CLARK Gainesville - S. Clark Butler passed away quietly in his sleep at 6:30 pm on October 10, 2008. Known as one of Florida's pioneering and most successful, private commercial real estate developers, Clark Butler served the Gainesville community and its citizens for over 7 decades. Known for his brilliance, vision, integrity amid hard work, Butler was determined to build a shopping center development that would serve the Gainesville community for generations to come. His legacy and brainchild, Butler Plaza, is a mile-long shopping center and has been one of Gainesville's mainstays and most profitable business centers for over two decades. Butler's life can be characterized as a true rag to riches story. He moved to Gainesville with his family on the heels of the Great Depression with only 300 dollars to their name. After opening a fresh produce stand with his father and brother in 1939, Butler soon led his family and grew his business into a 15,000 square foot grocery store. His store was one of the few businesses that served all communities in Gainesville, including: East Gainesville, at a very difficult time during segregation. As he rose in prominence as a grocery store owner and businessman, Butler was called upon for public service. In the 1950s, Butler served as City Commissioner and Mayor, and was called on to end corruption in the bidding process in Gainesville. Uncompromising and determined not to compromise his integrity, Butler's vote helped to end bidding corruption and, as a result, his grocery store was burned down. Again, facing poverty, Butler, his father and his brother Bill, started building affordable homes for Gainesville's citizens. His success as a residential developer mirrored his success with his grocery store and with whatever he touched. He soon became one of the areas most innovative residential and commercial developers. With his daughter Deborah at his side, Butler realized the American dream. At the time of his death, he was developing new projects in Gainesville that would bring thousands of new jobs to the community. Butler has been recognized for decades for his work as a philanthropist and entrepreneur. Indeed, the recipient of numerous awards and accolades, his proudest accomplishment was that he was able to encourage young kids to do well in school and to secure a higher education. He was the Founder of the Gainesville Boys Club, Past President and Charter member of the Gainesville Builder's Association, Founding member of the Gainesville State Bank and Chairman of the Board for 20 years, a Rotary member, Past Chairman of the local Board of Directors for Compass Bank, Member of the University of Florida Foundation, Co-Founder of the S. Clark Butler Entrepreneurial Foundation at the University of Florida, Member of the International Council of Shopping Centers, Member of the University of Florida Planned Giving, Sponsor of University of Florida Performance That Counts, Sponsor of Junior Achievement, Donor to the Phillips Center for Performing Arts, Member of University of Florida President's Council, Lifetime Honorary Member of the Florida Sheriffs Association, contributor to St. Francis High School as well as many other charitable organizations. He also received countless awards for his outstanding contributions to this community including the Alachua County Black Caucus Un-Sung Hero Award, the Red Triangle award, the Key to the City of Gainesville, University of Florida Entrepreneurship & Innovation Distinguished Achievement Award as well as numerous awards over the years from the YMCA. Clark Butler was preceded in death by his son Clark Butler, Jr. He is survived by his wife of 65 years Mary Catherine Butler, his daughters Catherine Ann Butler of Los Angeles, and Deborah Jean Butler of Gainesville, his brother Robert Butler as well as other relatives and friends. BUTLER, S. CLARK Gainesville - S. Clark Butler passed away quietly in his sleep at 6:30 pm on October 10, 2008. Known as one of Florida's pioneering and most successful, private commercial real estate developers, Clark Butler served the Gainesville community and its citizens for over 7 decades. Known for his brilliance, vision, integrity amid hard work, Butler was determined to build a shopping center development that would serve the Gainesville community for generations to come. His legacy and brainchild, Butler Plaza, is a mile-long shopping center and has been one of Gainesville's mainstays and most profitable business centers for over two decades. Butler's life can be characterized as a true rag to riches story. He moved to Gainesville with his family on the heels of the Great Depression with only 300 dollars to their name. After opening a fresh produce stand with his father and brother in 1939, Butler soon led his family and grew his business into a 15,000 square foot grocery store. His store was one of the few businesses that served all communities in Gainesville, including: East Gainesville, at a very difficult time during segregation. As he rose in prominence as a grocery store owner and businessman, Butler was called upon for public service. In the 1950s, Butler served as City Commissioner and Mayor, and was called on to end corruption in the bidding process in Gainesville. Uncompromising and determined not to compromise his integrity, Butler's vote helped to end bidding corruption and, as a result, his grocery store was burned down. Again, facing poverty, Butler, his father and his brother Bill, started building affordable homes for Gainesville's citizens. His success as a residential developer mirrored his success with his grocery store and with whatever he touched. He soon became one of the areas most innovative residential and commercial developers. With his daughter Deborah at his side, Butler realized the American dream. At the time of his death, he was developing new projects in Gainesville that would bring thousands of new jobs to the community. Butler has been recognized for decades for his work as a philanthropist and entrepreneur. Indeed, the recipient of numerous awards and accolades, his proudest accomplishment was that he was able to encourage young kids to do well in school and to secure a higher education. He was the Founder of the Gainesville Boys Club, Past President and Charter member of the Gainesville Builder's Association, Founding member of the Gainesville State Bank and Chairman of the Board for 20 years, a Rotary member, Past Chairman of the local Board of Directors for Compass Bank, Member of the University of Florida Foundation, Co-Founder of the S. Clark Butler Entrepreneurial Foundation at the University of Florida, Member of the International Council of Shopping Centers, Member of the University of Florida Planned Giving, Sponsor of University of Florida Performance That Counts, Sponsor of Junior Achievement, Donor to the Phillips Center for Performing Arts, Member of University of Florida President's Council, Lifetime Honorary Member of the Florida Sheriffs Association, contributor to St. Francis High School as well as many other charitable organizations. He also received countless awards for his outstanding contributions to this community including the Alachua County Black Caucus Un-Sung Hero Award, the Red Triangle award, the Key to the City of Gainesville, University of Florida Entrepreneurship & Innovation Distinguished Achievement Award as well as numerous awards over the years from the YMCA. Clark Butler was preceded in death by his son Clark Butler, Jr. He is survived by his wife of 65 years Mary Catherine Butler, his daughters Catherine Ann Butler of Los Angeles, and Deborah Jean Butler of Gainesville, his brother Robert Butler as well as other relatives and friends. BUTLER, S. CLARK Gainesville - S. Clark Butler passed away quietly in his sleep at 6:30 pm on October 10, 2008. Known as one of Florida's pioneering and most successful, private commercial real estate developers, Clark Butler served the Gainesville community and its citizens for over 7 decades. Known for his brilliance, vision, integrity amid hard work, Butler was determined to build a shopping center development that would serve the Gainesville community for generations to come. His legacy and brainchild, Butler Plaza, is a mile-long shopping center and has been one of Gainesville's mainstays and most profitable business centers for over two decades. Butler's life can be characterized as a true rags to riches story. He moved to Gainesville with his family on the heels of the Great Depression with only 300 dollars to their name. After opening a fresh produce stand with his father and brother in 1939, Butler soon led his family and grew his business into a 15,000 square foot grocery store. His store was one of the few businesses that served all communities in Gainesville, including: East Gainesville, at a very difficult time during segregation. As he rose in prominence as a grocery store owner and businessman, Butler was called upon for public service. In the 1950s, Butler served as City Commissioner and Mayor, and was called on to end corruption in the bidding process in Gainesville. Uncompromising and determined not to compromise his integrity, Butler's vote helped to end bidding corruption and, as a result, his grocery store was burned down. Again, facing poverty, Butler, his father and his brother Bill, started building affordable homes for Gainesville's citizens. His success as a residential developer mirrored his success with his grocery store and with whatever he touched. He soon became one of the areas most innovative residential and commercial developers. With his daughter Deborah at his side, Butler realized the American dream. At the time of his death, he was developing new projects in Gainesville that would bring thousands of new jobs to the community. Butler has been recognized for decades for his work as a philanthropist and entrepreneur. Indeed, the recipient of numerous awards and accolades, his proudest accomplishment was that he was able to encourage young kids to do well in school and to secure a higher education. He was the Founder of the Gainesville Boys Club, Past President and Charter member of the Gainesville Builder's Association, Founding member of the Gainesville State Bank and Chairman of the Board for 20 years, a Rotary member, Past Chairman of the local Board of Directors for Compass Bank, Member of the University of Florida Foundation, Co-Founder of the S. Clark Butler Entrepreneurial Foundation at the University of Florida, Member of the International Council of Shopping Centers, Member of the University of Florida Planned Giving,

Sponsor of University of Florida Performance That Counts, Sponsor of Junior Achievement, Donor to the Phillips Center for Performing Arts, Member of University of Florida President's Council, Lifetime Honorary Member of the Florida Sheriffs Association, contributor to St. Francis High School as well as many other charitable organizations. He also received countless awards for his outstanding contributions to this community including the Alachua County Black Caucus Un-Sung Hero Award, the Red Triangle award, the Key to the City of Gainesville, University of Florida Entrepreneurship & Innovation Distinguished Achievement Award as well as numerous awards over the years from the YMCA. Clark Butler was preceded in death by his son Clark Butler, Jr. He is survived by his wife of 65 years Mary Catherine Butler, his daughters Catherine Ann Butler of Los Angeles, and Deborah Jean Butler of Gainesville, his brother Robert Butler as well as other relatives and friends. GOLDMAN, JACQUELIN ROBERTA Jacquelin Roberta Goldman, PhD, 74, Professor Emeritus, Department of Clinical and Health Psychology and Department of Psychology at U Fla, died Monday, 11/3/08, in Gainesville, Fl. The daughter of the late Leon Herman and Mildred Brodes Goldman, she was the beloved sister of Ben and Renee Goldman, Weirsdale, Fl; Paul and Kathy Goldman, Rye, NH; and Leonard and Jackie Goldman, Valpariso, Fl, along with numerous nieces and nephews and their children. Although she lived most of her adult life in Gainesville, Jacque was a second-generation Ocala native. She graduated from Ocala High School in 1952, and from U Fla in 1956 with High Honors, and earned her graduate degrees from University of Illinois, Urbana. She began her career at U Fla in 1961, and trained many future psychologists (a total of 24 doctoral students) until her retirement after more than 35 years of service in 1998, when she was conferred the title of Professor Emeritus. She authored a total of three psychology textbooks and published some 40+ book chapters and professional articles; received numerous honors, including Phi Beta Kappa, Who's Who of American Women and the Audrey Schumacher Faculty Award for Excellence in Clinical Teaching; and served on many professional boards, including as Presidents of the Florida State Board of

Examiners of Psychology, and of the American Board of Professional Psychology. She also was active in her community, supporting with both time and money various organizations, including Altrusa Club, the Maimonides Society of the Jewish Council of North Central Florida, the Humane Society, the Democratic Party, the Harn Museum of Art, and others. She has bequeathed two generous donations: to the University of Florida Foundation, to establish the Jacquelin R. Goldman Scholarship in Developmental Psychology; and to the American Psychological Foundation, to establish a congressional fellowship for psychologists to impact child-related legislation. Always an avid traveler (including Norway, Russia, China, France, Egypt), when Jacque began to plan for her retirement she decided to bring out her list of "must visit" travel locations for review. She had always wanted to see the Canadian Rockies, so she and her San Francisco friend left for an extended car trip from California up the West Coast into British Columbia and over to Banff and Lake Louise. Another dream was realized when she braved the high altitude of Peru's Machu Picchu to view the ancient Inca ruins. Among her "must see" locations was Mesa Verde, Chaco Canyon, Zion National Park and Bryce National Monument. Her travels also took her to Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula for snorkeling, to Costa Rica for birdwatching, to Berlin, Prague and Budapest to stalk art museums. She guided her friends through South Florida's natural beauty and spent lots of time visiting California's deserts, mountains, and coastline. She always said the Pacific Ocean looked OK, it was just on the wrong side of the continent. Jacque was an avid Gator fan. She loved playing poker with her family (where she was affectionately called "Squirt"), and with a group of UF colleagues with whom she worked. She will be missed by all her family and friends who loved her so much. A memorial service will be held at B'nai Israel Congregation in Gainesville on Sunday, November 9, at 4:30 pm. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to any of the above organizations, or to Hospice. Arrangements are under the care of Williams-Thomas Funeral Home, 404 North Main Street, Gainesville. GOLDMAN, JACQUELIN ROBERTA Jacquelin Roberta Goldman, PhD, 74, Professor Emeritus, Department of Clinical and Health Psychology and Department of Psychology at U Fla, died Monday, 11/3/08, in Gainesville, Fl. The daughter of the late Leon Herman and Mildred Brodes Goldman, she was the beloved sister of Ben and Renee Goldman, Weirsdale, Fl; Paul and Kathy Goldman, Rye, NH; and Leonard and Jackie Goldman, Valpariso, Fl, along with numerous nieces and nephews and their children. Although she lived most of her adult life in Gainesville, Jacque was a second-generation Ocala native. She graduated from Ocala High School in 1952, and from U Fla in 1956 with High Honors, and earned her graduate degrees from University of Illinois, Urbana. She began her career at U Fla in 1961, and trained many future psychologists (a total of 24 doctoral students) until her retirement after more than 35 years of service in 1998, when she was conferred the title of Professor Emeritus. She authored a total of three psychology textbooks and published some 40+ book chapters and professional articles; received numerous honors, including Phi Beta Kappa, Who's Who of American Women and the Audrey Schumacher Faculty Award for Excellence in Clinical Teaching; and served on many professional boards, including as Presidents of the Florida State Board of Examiners of Psychology, and of the American Board of Professional Psychology. She also was active in her community, supporting with both time and money various organizations, including Altrusa Club, the Maimonides Society of the Jewish Council of North Central Florida, the Humane Society, the Democratic Party, the Harn Museum of Art, and others. She has bequeathed two generous donations: to the University of Florida Foundation, to establish the Jacquelin R. Goldman Scholarship in Developmental Psychology; and to the American Psychological Foundation, to establish a congressional fellowship for psychologists to impact child-related legislation. Always an avid traveler

(including Norway, Russia, China, France, Egypt), when Jacque began to plan for her retirement she decided to bring out her list of "must visit" travel locations for review. She had always wanted to see the Canadian Rockies, so she and her San Francisco friend left for an extended car trip from California up the West Coast into British Columbia and over to Banff and Lake Louise. Another dream was realized when she braved the high altitude of Peru's Machu Picchu to view the ancient Inca ruins. Among her "must see" locations was Mesa Verde, Chaco Canyon, Zion National Park and Bryce National Monument. Her travels also took her to Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula for snorkeling, to Costa Rico for birdwatching, to Berlin, Prague and Budapest to stalk art museums. She guided her friends through South Florida's natural beauty and spent lots of time visiting California's deserts, mountains, and coastline. She always said the Pacific Ocean looked OK, it was just on the wrong side of the continent. Jacque was an avid Gator fan. She loved playing poker with her family (where she was affectionately called "Squirt"), and with a group of UF colleagues with whom she worked. She will be missed by all her family and friends who loved her so much. A memorial service will be held at B'nai Israel Congregation in Gainesville on Sunday, November 9, at 4:30 pm. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to any of the above organizations, or to Hospice. Arrangements are under the care of Williams-Thomas Funeral Home, 404 North Main Street, Gainesville. GOLDMAN, JACQUELIN ROBERTA Jacquelin Roberta Goldman, PhD, 74, Professor Emeritus, Department of Clinical and Health Psychology and Department of Psychology at U Fla, died Monday, 11/3/08, in Gainesville, Fl. The daughter of the late Leon Herman and Mildred Brodes Goldman, she was the beloved sister of Ben and Renee Goldman, Weirsdale, Fl; Paul and Kathy Goldman, Rye, NH; and Leonard and Jackie Goldman, Valpariso, Fl, along with numerous nieces and nephews and their children. Although she lived most of her adult life in Gainesville, Jacque was a second-generation Ocala native. She graduated from Ocala High School in 1952, and from U Fla in 1956 with High Honors, and earned her graduate degrees from University of Illinois, Urbana. She began her career at U Fla in 1961, and trained many future psychologists (a total of 24 doctoral students) until her retirement after more than 35 years of service in 1998, when she was conferred the title of Professor Emeritus. She authored a total of three psychology textbooks and published some 40+ book chapters and professional articles; received numerous honors, including Phi Beta Kappa, Who's Who of American Women and the Audrey Schumacher Faculty Award for Excellence in Clinical Teaching; and served on many professional boards, including as Presidents of the Florida State Board of Examiners of Psychology, and of the American Board of Professional Psychology. She also was active in her community, supporting with both time and money various organizations, including Altrusa Club, the Maimonides Society of the Jewish Council of North Central Florida, the Humane Society, the Democratic Party, the Harn Museum of Art, and others. She has bequeathed two generous donations: to the University of Florida Foundation, to establish the Jacquelin R. Goldman Scholarship in Developmental Psychology; and to the American Psychological Foundation, to establish a congressional fellowship for psychologists to impact child-related legislation. Always an avid traveler (including Norway, Russia, China, France, Egypt), when Jacque began to plan for her retirement she decided to bring out her list of "must visit" travel locations for review. She had always wanted to see the Canadian Rockies, so she and her San Francisco friend left for an extended car trip from California up the West Coast into British Columbia and over to Banff and Lake Louise. Another dream was realized when she braved the high altitude of Peru's Machu Picchu to view the ancient Inca ruins. Among her "must see" locations was Mesa Verde, Chaco Canyon, Zion National Park and Bryce National Monument. Her travels also took her to Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula for snorkeling, to Costa Rica for birdwatching, to Berlin, Prague and Budapest to stalk art museums. She guided her friends through South Florida's natural beauty and spent lots of time visiting California's deserts, mountains, and coastline. She always said the Pacific Ocean looked OK, it was just on the wrong side of the continent. Jacque was an avid Gator fan. She loved playing poker with her family (where she was affectionately called "Squirt"), and with a group of UF colleagues with whom she worked. She will be missed by all her family and friends who loved her so much. A memorial service will be held at B'nai Israel Congregation in Gainesville on Sunday, November 9, at 4:30 pm. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to any of the above organizations, or to Hospice. Arrangements are under the care of Williams-Thomas Funeral Home, 404 North Main Street, Gainesville. GOLDMAN, JACQUELIN ROBERTA Jacquelin Roberta Goldman, PhD, 74, Professor Emeritus, Department of Clinical and Health Psychology and Department of Psychology at U Fla, died Monday, 11/3/08, in Gainesville, Fl. The daughter of the late Leon Herman and Mildred Brodes Goldman, she was the beloved sister of Ben and Renee Goldman, Weirsdale, Fl; Paul and Kathy Goldman, Rye, NH; and Leonard and Jackie Goldman, Valpariso, Fl, along with numerous nieces and nephews and their children. Although she lived most of her adult life in Gainesville, Jacque was a second-generation Ocala native. She graduated from Ocala High School in 1952, and from U Fla in 1956 with High Honors, and earned her graduate degrees from University of Illinois, Urbana. She began her career at U Fla in 1961, and trained many future psychologists (a total of 24 doctoral students) until her retirement after more than 35 years of service in 1998, when she was conferred the title of Professor Emeritus. She authored a total of three psychology textbooks and published some 40+ book chapters and professional articles; received numerous honors, including Phi Beta Kappa, Who's Who of American Women and the Audrey Schumacher Faculty Award for Excellence in Clinical Teaching; and served on many professional boards, including as Presidents of the Florida State Board of Examiners of Psychology, and of the American Board of Professional Psychology. She also was active in her community, supporting with both time and money various organizations, including Altrusa Club, the Maimonides Society of the Jewish Council of North Central Florida, the Humane Society, the Democratic Party, the Harn Museum of Art, and others. She has bequeathed two generous donations: to the University of Florida Foundation, to establish the Jacquelin R. Goldman Scholarship in Developmental Psychology; and to the American Psychological Foundation, to establish a congressional fellowship for psychologists to impact child-related legislation. Always an avid traveler (including Norway, Russia, China, France, Egypt), when Jacque began to plan for her retirement she decided to bring out her list of "must visit" travel locations for review. She had always wanted to see the Canadian Rockies, so she and her San Francisco friend left for an extended car trip from California up the West Coast into British Columbia and over to Banff and Lake Louise. Another dream was realized when she braved the high altitude of Peru's Machu Picchu to view the ancient Inca ruins. Among her "must see" locations was Mesa Verde, Chaco Canyon, Zion National Park and Bryce National Monument. Her travels also took her to Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula for snorkeling, to Costa Rica for birdwatching, to Berlin, Prague and Budapest to stalk art museums. She guided her friends through South Florida's natural beauty and spent lots of time visiting California's deserts, mountains, and coastline. She always said the Pacific Ocean looked OK, it was just on the wrong side of the continent. Jacque was an avid Gator fan. She loved playing poker with her family (where she was affectionately called "Squirt"), and with a group of UF colleagues with whom she worked. She will be missed by all her family and friends who loved her so much. A memorial service will be held at B'nai Israel Congregation in Gainesville on Sunday, November 9, at 4:30 pm. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to any of the above organizations, or to Hospice. Arrangements are under the care of Williams-Thomas Funeral Home, 404 North Main Street, Gainesville. GOLDMAN, JACQUELIN ROBERTA Jacquelin Roberta Goldman, PhD, 74, Professor Emeritus, Department of Clinical and Health Psychology and Department of Psychology at U Fla, died Monday, 11/3/08, in Gainesville, Fl. The daughter of the late Leon Herman and Mildred Brodes Goldman, she was the beloved sister of Ben and Renee Goldman, Weirsdale, Fl; Paul and Kathy Goldman, Rye, NH; and Leonard and Jackie Goldman, Valpariso, Fl, along with numerous nieces and nephews and their children. Although she lived most of her adult life in Gainesville, Jacque was a second-generation Ocala native. She graduated from Ocala High School in 1952, and from U Fla in 1956 with High Honors, and earned her graduate degrees from University of Illinois, Urbana. She began her career at U Fla in 1961, and trained many future psychologists (a total of 24 doctoral students) until her retirement after more than 35 years of service in 1998, when she was conferred the title of Professor Emeritus. She authored a total of three psychology textbooks and published some 40+ book chapters and professional articles; received numerous honors, including Phi Beta Kappa, Who's Who of American Women and the Audrey Schumacher Faculty Award for Excellence in Clinical Teaching; and served on many professional boards, including as Presidents of the Florida State Board of

Examiners of Psychology, and of the American Board of Professional Psychology. She also was active in her community, supporting with both time and money various organizations, including Altrusa Club, the Maimonides Society of the Jewish Council of North Central Florida, the Humane Society, the Democratic Party, the Harn Museum of Art, and others. She has bequeathed two generous donations: to the University of Florida Foundation, to establish the Jacquelin R. Goldman Scholarship in Developmental Psychology; and to the American Psychological Foundation, to establish a congressional fellowship for psychologists to impact child-related legislation. Always an avid traveler (including Norway, Russia, China, France, Egypt), when Jacque began to plan for her retirement she decided to bring out her list of "must visit" travel locations for review. She had always wanted to see the Canadian Rockies, so she and her San Francisco friend left for an extended car trip from California up the West Coast into British Columbia and over to Banff and Lake Louise. Another dream was realized when she braved the high altitude of Peru's Machu Picchu to view the ancient Inca ruins. Among her "must see" locations was Mesa Verde, Chaco Canyon, Zion National Park and Bryce National Monument. Her travels also took her to Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula for snorkeling, to Costa Rica for birdwatching, to Berlin, Prague and Budapest to stalk art museums. She guided her friends through South Florida's natural beauty and spent lots of time visiting California's deserts, mountains, and coastline. She always said the Pacific Ocean looked OK, it was just on the wrong side of the continent. Jacque was an avid Gator fan. She loved playing poker with her family (where she was affectionately called "Squirt"), and with a group of UF colleagues with whom she worked. She will be missed by all her family and friends who loved her so much. A memorial service will be held at B'nai Israel Congregation in Gainesville on Sunday, November 9, at 4:30 pm. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to any of the above organizations, or to Hospice. Arrangements are under the care of Williams-Thomas Funeral Home, 404 North Main Street, Gainesville. HIMES, JAMES ALBERT Gainesville - Dr. James Albert Himes passed away on November 16, 2008 at Shands Hospital in Gainesville, Florida, after a brief but very brave battle against cancer. Dr. Himes was born to Reverend Albert Himes and Nina Galleher Himes on August 12, 1919, in Lucas, Ohio. He was the youngest of four siblings. He grew up in Cambridge, Ohio, and played football in high school. During one of his high school games his leg was broken. Even though he spent months in the hospital, the leg never healed correctly and he walked with a limp until he had double knee replacement surgery later in life. After graduating from high school, Jim attended and graduated cum laude, from Muskingum College in New Concord, with a major in biology and a minor in chemistry. He began his graduate program in the Department of Zoology at the University of Nebraska in 1941, but his studies were interrupted when he enlisted in the Army the following school year. After boot camp and training, Jim's served overseas in India as a medical lab technician where as a young man he had many adventures. Besides assisting with lab work in Army hospitals, part of his job was to assist the Veterinary Corp. as well, and it was during this time that Jim decided he would pursue a career in veterinary medicine when he returned to the states. He was discharged as a Master Sergeant in December of 1945 after receiving many honors and medals, including a bronze star. After WWII ended he completed his degree at Nebraska and entered the Veterinary program at the University of Pennsylvania, graduating with his VMD in 1950. He practiced as a country veterinarian in Culpeper, Virginia for several years and then moved to Florida where he worked in several small- and mixed-animal practices and served as a track veterinarian for the Daytona Beach Kennel Club. While in Florida Jim met and married Ruth Naomi Himes, in 1959. In July of 1962, after the birth of their first child Leslie, Jim continued his education by enrolling in the N.Y. State Veterinary College at Cornell University in Ithaca. He worked as a research assistant while at Cornell and had a second daughter, Jillyn Alicia, while living in Ithaca. Jim managed to graduate with a Ph.D. in Veterinary Physiology and Pharmacology in June of 1965 despite a lengthy bout with German measles. Jim began his long career at the University of Florida in July of that same year as an Assistant Professor of Veterinary Science in the College of Agriculture. Four years later he was promoted to the rank of Associate Professor and in July of 1973 received a joint appointment in the newly forming College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Florida. On July 1, 1975, Jim was appointed Director of the Office of Veterinary Medical Education in the College of Veterinary Medicine and continued in that capacity for the next 15 years as Assistant Dean for Student Activities (1977-1987) and Associate Dean for Student Activities and Instruction (1987-1990). Following full retirement in 1992, Jim was appointed Professor Emeritus in the College of Veterinary Medicine and remained active as an advisor for aspiring veterinarians up until the current year. In addition to his integral role as a faculty member and administrator during the formative years of the veterinary college at UF, Jim also owned and operated a Chinese restaurant, the Cathay Tea House, with his second wife, Genia. In 1978 Jim and Genia visited Genia's homeland of Taiwan. The model of service, Jim was a record blood donor, and many professional awards and honors were bestowed upon him throughout the years. His dry wit, brilliant mind, kind demeanor and giving heart are tributes to his long and very productive life. He will be greatly missed by his family, his former students and his colleagues. He was greatly loved and admired by all. Dr. Himes was preceded in death by his two sisters Peg Sims and Ruth Addison, and brother, Thomas Merle Himes, and by his eldest grandson, Ben Green. TAYLOR, AUDREY D. 85 Gainesville - Audrey Dennison Taylor, 85, died in Gainesville at the North Florida Regional Medical Center on November 8, 2008, after a long illness. She is survived by her husband of 60 years, Dr. W. Jape Taylor, four sons, J. Holley of Gainesville, Andrew D. of Hawaii, Richard M. of Phoenix, Arizona, and D. Lee of Fairbanks, Alaska, and three grandchildren, Laura, Michael, and Leyla. Audrey was born in Souris, Manitoba, Canada. Her family moved to Missouri while she was young and later to the Boston area. She graduated from Radcliffe College with a degree in Psychology, then worked as a research assistant for Dr. Derek Denny-Brown in Boston, where she and Dr. Taylor met and were married. Following stints in Durham, NC, Charleston, SC, and Pittsburgh, PA, the family, with three young sons, arrived in Gainesville in 1958, where the fourth son was born. When her sons began to leave home, she returned to school herself and earned a Master's degree in Anthropology from the University of Florida. She then worked for several years for Santa Fe Community College and the University of Florida College of Education. She was a person with many interests and skills, particularly those which would enrich the lives of her family and friends. Early in life she became a musician, and in college she was President of the Radcliffe Choral Society, where she had fond memories of singing under a young Leonard Bernstein. In Gainesville she was a founding member of the Civic Chorus. Audrey was active in many organizations such as Gainesville Women for Equal Rights. She was especially proud of her role in helping to mentor young Afro-Americans during the early days of integration, guiding them on paths which led them to become successful, highly educated professionals. She was a member of the American Association of University Women, the United Nations Association, and the American Anthropological Association. She was also a regular attendee at local school board meetings for many years. Despite the amount of time dedicated to such activities, Audrey's top priority was always support and contribution to her family's activities, such as supporting her husband in the establishment of a new Medical School at the University of Florida. A special example of this was living in Nigeria for a year with Jape and Lee, to help establish a new Medical School there. And not least of all, she provided a loving and supportive home for the happy childhoods and healthy growth of her four boys. It is impossible to list all of Audrey's positive impacts on life and those around her. A memorial service will be held later this year. Contributions in her memory may be made to the United Nations Association of Gainesville. Arrangements are in the care of Forest Meadows Funeral Home, Cemeteries, and Crematory. 352-378-2528 Please sign our guestbook at www.forestmeadowsfh.com Published in the Gainesville Sun from 11/18/2008 - 11/19/2008

HIMES, JAMES ALBERT Gainesville - Dr. James Albert Himes passed away on November 16, 2008 at Shands Hospital in Gainesville, Florida, after a brief but very brave battle against cancer. Dr. Himes was born to Reverend Albert Himes and Nina Galleher Himes on August 12, 1919, in Lucas, Ohio. He was the youngest of four siblings. He grew up in Cambridge, Ohio, and played football in high school. During one of his high school games his leg was broken. Even though he spent months in the hospital, the leg never healed correctly and he walked with a limp until he had double knee replacement surgery later in life. After graduating from high school, Jim attended and graduated cum laude, from Muskingum College in New Concord, with a major in biology and a minor in chemistry. He began his graduate program in the Department of Zoology at the University of Nebraska in 1941, but his studies were interrupted when he enlisted in the Army the following school year. After boot camp and training, Jim's served overseas in India as a medical lab technician where as a young man he had many adventures. Besides assisting with lab work in Army hospitals, part of his job was to assist the Veterinary Corp. as well, and it was during this time that Jim decided he would pursue a career in veterinary medicine when he returned to the states. He was discharged as a Master Sergeant in December of 1945 after receiving many honors and medals, including a bronze star. After WWII ended he completed his degree at Nebraska and entered the Veterinary program at the University of Pennsylvania, graduating with his VMD in 1950. He practiced as a country veterinarian in Culpeper, Virginia for several years and then moved to Florida where he worked in several small- and mixed-animal practices and served as a track veterinarian for the Daytona Beach Kennel Club. While in Florida Jim met and married Ruth Naomi Himes, in 1959. In July of 1962, after the birth of their first child Leslie, Jim continued his education by enrolling in the N.Y. State Veterinary College at Cornell University in Ithaca. He worked as a research assistant while at Cornell and had a second daughter, Jillyn Alicia, while living in Ithaca. Jim managed to graduate with a Ph.D. in Veterinary Physiology and Pharmacology in June of 1965 despite a lengthy bout with German measles. Jim began his long career at the University of Florida in July of that same year as an Assistant Professor of Veterinary Science in the College of Agriculture. Four years later he was promoted to the rank of Associate Professor and in July of 1973 received a joint appointment in the newly forming College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Florida. Despite the amount of time dedicated to such activities, Audrey's top priority was always support and contribution to her family's activities, such as supporting her husband in the establishment of a new Medical School at the University of Florida. A special example of this was living in Nigeria for a year with Jape and Lee, to help establish a new Medical School there. And not least of all, she provided a loving and supportive home for the happy childhoods and healthy growth of her four boys. It is impossible to list all of Audrey's positive impacts on life and those around her. A memorial service will be held later this year. Contributions in her memory may be made to the United Nations Association of Gainesville. Arrangements are in the care of Forest Meadows Funeral Home, Cemeteries, and Crematory. 352-378-2528 Please sign our guestbook at www.forestmeadowsfh.com Published in the Gainesville Sun from 11/18/2008 - 11/19/2008

HIMES, JAMES ALBERT Gainesville - Dr. James Albert Himes passed away on November 16, 2008 at Shands Hospital in Gainesville, Florida, after a brief but very brave battle against cancer. Dr. Himes was born to Reverend Albert Himes and Nina Galleher Himes on August 12, 1919, in Lucas, Ohio. He was the youngest of four siblings. He grew up in Cambridge, Ohio, and played football in high school. During one of his high school games his leg was broken. Even though he spent months in the hospital, the leg never healed correctly and he walked with a limp until he had double knee replacement surgery later in life. After graduating from high school, Jim attended and graduated cum laude, from Muskingum College in New Concord, with a major in biology and a minor in chemistry. He began his graduate program in the Department of Zoology at the University of Nebraska in 1941, but his studies were interrupted when he enlisted in the Army the following school year. After boot camp and training, Jim's served overseas in India as a medical lab technician where as a young man he had many adventures. Besides assisting with lab work in Army hospitals, part of his job was to assist the Veterinary Corp. as well, and it was during this time that Jim decided he would pursue a career in veterinary medicine when he returned to the states. He was discharged as a Master Sergeant in December of 1945 after receiving many honors and medals, including a bronze star. After WWII ended he completed his degree at Nebraska and entered the Veterinary program at the University of Pennsylvania, graduating with his VMD in 1950. He practiced as a country veterinarian in Culpeper, Virginia for several years and then moved to Florida where he worked in several small- and mixed-animal practices and served as a track veterinarian for the Daytona Beach Kennel Club. While in Florida Jim met and married Ruth Naomi Himes, in 1959. In July of 1962, after the birth of their first child Leslie, Jim continued his education by enrolling in the N.Y. State Veterinary College at Cornell University in Ithaca. He worked as a research assistant while at Cornell and had a second daughter, Jillyn Alicia, while living in Ithaca. Jim managed to graduate with a Ph.D. in Veterinary Physiology and Pharmacology in June of 1965 despite a lengthy bout with German measles. Jim began his long career at the University of Florida in July of that same year as an Assistant Professor of Veterinary

Science in the College of Agriculture. Four years later he was promoted to the rank of Associate Professor and in July of 1973 received a joint appointment in the newly forming College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Florida. On July 1, 1975, Jim was appointed Director of the Office of Veterinary Medical Education in the College of Veterinary Medicine and continued in that capacity for the next 15 years as Assistant Dean for Student Activities (1977-1987) and Associate Dean for Student Activities and Instruction (1987-1990). Following full retirement in 1992, Jim was appointed Professor Emeritus in the College of Veterinary Medicine and remained active as an advisor for aspiring veterinarians up until the current year. In addition to his integral role as a faculty member and administrator during the formative years of the veterinary college at UF, Jim also owned and operated a Chinese restaurant, the Cathay Tea House, with his second wife, Genia. In 1978 Jim and Genia visited Genia's homeland of Taiwan. The model of service, Jim was a record blood donor, and many professional awards and honors were bestowed upon him throughout the years. His dry wit, brilliant mind, kind demeanor and giving heart are tributes to his long and very productive life. He will be greatly missed by his family, his former students and his colleagues. He was greatly loved and admired by all. Dr. Himes was preceded in death by his two sisters Peg Sims and Ruth Addison, and brother, Thomas Merle Himes, and by his eldest grandson, Ben Green. The program has continued to the present and in 2003 he was honored by the Hospital on the 37th anniversary of "Operation White Hat" when a new wing to the hospital was dedicated as "White Hat Wing." Captain Lloyd's 26-year naval career ended in 1967 when he retired from his last assignment at Great Lakes and he became public relations director for a Chicago-based health association. Captain Lloyd had five tours of duty in Washington, D.C. He soon redirected his retirement to complete his college education, this time at the University of Florida, Gainesville, where he earned Bachelor and Masters degrees in journalism, and also served as an instructor at the School of Journalism. "Always a Gator" he said after he left Gainesville for rural Williston. He continued as a Florida Booster, but enjoyed a new role in the community as a member of the Williston Highlands Golf & Country Club, where he earned the distinction of 'Lifetime Member.' Active throughout his life as a community volunteer, he counted among his most significant achievements his leadership role in organizing junior golf events, his efforts to promote the growth of the Republican Party in Levy County, and his work as a reading teacher for illiterate adults. In 1995, he donned a Jaguars cap and moved to Jacksonville Beach to undergo treatments for prostate cancer at the Mayo Clinic. He celebrated his 80th birthday by hosting an Octogenarian Golf Tournament for some of his friends at Selva Marina Country Club, and the occasion was so successful that it has become an increasingly popular annual major event for Jacksonville's senior golfers. He was preceded in death by his wife of 66 years, Josephine "Jody" Lloyd on August 16, 2008 and is survived by three children, five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Sons Fred and Jeff reside in Jacksonville Beach area and daughter Nanci Clanton lives in Williston. The family will hold a private memorial for Buzz and Jody, November 22nd in Jacksonville Beach. Their ashes will be co-mingled according to their request, and consigned to the sea in a Navy ceremony on December 7th. Published in the Gainesville Sun from 11/19/2008 - 11/20/2008
